LSRCA's Katieya Young-Chin plants a tamarack beside the Holland Marsh Canal, during the June 14 Community Work Party and tree-planting effort. The volunteer effort was organized by South Simcoe Streams Network.

The South Simcoe Streams Network organized a Community Work Party and Tree-planting in the Holland Marsh on June 14.

High School students, members of the South Simcoe and New Tecumseth Streams networks, Lake Simcoe Region Conservation Authority and other community partners came out to dig holes and plant approximately 400 metres of the new berm beside the reconstructed Holland Marsh Canal near Hwy. 9, with a combination of native shrubs and trees. Grey Dogwood, Spirea, flowering Ninebark, Sumac and Tamarack were planted to stabilize and naturalize the berm. Later, equipment would be brought in to plant white pine, white spruce and sugar maple along the top of the berm.

Silvia Pedraza, co-ordinator with the South Simcoe Streams Network, has been working with the LSRCA and landowners in the Marsh on the plans to restore natural vegetation along the canals.

"Some landowners just want grass," Pedraza admitted, but others have been inspired by the success of an earlier pilot project along the canal

Listed!

The listing of the century home at 108 Moore St. on the Town of Bradford West Gwillimbury's Heritage Registry came back before Council on June 17. As promised, Council provided an opportunity for owners Dino and Jim Deluca to argue their case, as to why the home should not be listed.

The Delucas are opposed to listing. "It does have no heritage value. There's nothing heritage about it," Dino Deluca told Council, citing changes to the interior, including repainting and the installation of natural gas. He told Council that they only bought the house after being told it was not a Heritage building.

Asked by Councillor Gary Lamb about his plans, Deluca was frank. "It could be now, it could be in five years, the intent is to demolish," to allow for "redevelopment, a severance, and affordable housing."

"Our business is not to buy houses and restore them," Deluca said, suggesting that "if we were told before purchase that it would be listed," the brothers would not have purchased the property. "It's one step I don't want to go through... I don't want it near the list, I don't want it registered."

Several speakers in Open Forum disagreed with the Delucas' claims. Amateur historian David Chambers noted that the home was built circa 1880, in the Gothic Revival style - and called it embarrassing that there was still confusion over the difference between listing a property on a Heritage Registry, and designating it a Heritage Building. Listing on the Registry does not mean the home will be designated as a Heritage Building, but provides a good head start, should the owners apply for a demolition permit, giving the BWG

Home on Moore St. listed on the Heritage Registry

Heritage Committee time to investigate the architectural features and history. Listing on the Register does not require notification of the homeowner - it is Designation that is more formal, bringing restrictions and the option for appeal.

"I was actually embarrassed to see that my Council still has no misunderstandings," Chambers said, especially since the differences are "simply explained in paperback books from Queen's Park... They are easy to understand, readily available."

He urged the Town to list all buildings with potential heritage value on the Registry, to avoid the kind of "crisis" that occurred with the recommendation for 108 Moore St. "To avoid surprises, it is important to list these buildings on the Register sooner than later. There should be no exceptions... Our heritage is at stake."

Chambers agreed with Mayor Doug White that it was unfair that the owners learned of plans to list the house after they purchased. "This is exactly why all heritage buildings should be listed as soon as possible. Then we avoid these crises."

Chair of the BWG Heritage Committee Craig Cunningham urged Council to respect the recommendation of his committee. "Let the process work, agreeing with Chambers that all homes should be listed, so we just don't bulldoze our past for the sake of profit."

When the item came up on Agenda, Councillor Del Crake agreed in favour of listing. "The house on Moore St. has a lot of character, very stately. It fits into the rest of that area like a hand in a glove," he said, and although "at the present time, it's a shadow of itself... It is still one of the most significant heritage homes in the area. To place that under the wrecking ball and put cookie cutter homes in its place" would damage the character of the street, he argued.

Not all of Council agreed.

"I was kind of upset at the process," said Councillor James Leduc, agreeing with Chambers that all homes should be listed, to "get everybody on the same page." As for the Deluces, "they bought, it's their property, their money... I don't like doing that."

And Mayor Doug White took the opportunity to accuse the Municipal Heritage Committee of being "single preoccupied by properties owned by developers," instead of moving forward with Designating properties like the Town's Treasury Building, or working with consenting property owners. It took four years for the Committee to recommend designating the Treasury Building on Holland St. East, he said. "What about the dozens of other properties that we could designate in a year?"

The comments led to a defence of the Committee by member, Deputy Mayor Rob Kiefer. "I can't believe there are people around this table that still don't understand the way in which it differs from Designation, he said. "The Heritage Committee is just doing their due diligence in this case. It's hard to do everything that it appears this Mayor wants us to do, to try to get a look after the buildings that are under threat."

Council voted in favour of listing the home on the Register.

Riding the bus in Bradford West Gwillimbury

From right, Joanne Case of Bradford, Shelley Barlow (Tottenham), Lori Heppburn (Bradford), Diana Taseukas (Penningville) with bus driver.

Bradford residents Lori Heppburn and Joanne Case found a new way to explore their town.

They jumped on the bus. Early in May, the pair decided to try out the new BWG Transit System, and boarded the bus for a free ride. There, they met up with Diana Taseukas from Penningville, and Shelley Barlow of Tottenham; got off in the centre of Town for lunch at Coffee Culture, before catching a ride home.

"It was lovely," said Joanne Case. "The driver was really nice. It was a good 'Get the Day.'"

While they were riding the bus, the driver picked up other passengers - two sets of mothers with small children, and an elderly gentleman - "mostly young people and seniors."

The buses run from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Fares are $3 per person; $2 for holders of a prepaid easyPASS - who ride for free during June and July.

The Town continues to tweak the routes, responding to comments from riders. Effective June 16, the bus stop at Walmart Supercentre will be moved closer to the store, the bus will also make a stop at Dollarama - and Route 2 will be extended to the Danube Seniors Leisure Centre.

The changes will add only a little time to the routes, and won't affect connection times at the main hubs.

Farm & Commercial vehicle Info Session

The public, especially farmers, contractors and commercial operators, are invited to an Information Session at the Bradford Public Library on Tuesday, June 24 at 6:30 p.m. Officers with South Simcoe Police Traffic & Marine and Ministry of Transportation will be on hand to explain recent changes to the Highway Traffic Act, and clarify the sections that apply to Farm and Commercial vehicles operating on the highways.

Farm vehicle regulations have changed over the years, and we want people to know what they can and can't do while operating on a highway," said PC Jason VanderSar. The meeting takes place in the Zima Room of the Bradford Library, at 425 Holland St. W., and is free. Information will also cover commercial motor vehicle rules and regulations, relating to loads, dimensions, brakes and other requirements. A recent Commercial Vehicle Safety Blitz removed the plates of more than 30% of the stopped trucks, for safety violations.

For details, call PC VanderSar at 905-775-3311 or 705-436-21-81 ext. 2035.

Heritage in Bond Head

The Town of BWG Heritage Committee is holding an Information Session on Heritage Conservation Districts on Weds., June 25, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at the Bond Head Community Hall, 2892 County Rd. 27. Learn more about preserving built Heritage. Contact gmcknight@townofbwg.com

The shocker of the evening was the announced Liberal majority. "I'm saddened by it. It means there will be no effort to address the issues they left behind," Munro said, "No fiscal discipline."

The emotional climate was reversed at the Liberal camp, meeting in Ladle's in East Gwillimbury. There was elation that the Liberals under Kathleen Wynne were returned to power, but deep disappointment that the York-Simcoe candidate was defeated.

"I'm so pleased we have a majority Government and Ontario's first (elected) female premier... We lost the battle in York-Simcoe, but we won the war across Ontario. We'll get them next time."

The Munro team met at Don Cherry's Sports Grill in Bradford. The MPP thanked her volunteers and supporters for their "amazing" efforts, but also looked to the future.

"I want to tell you we have a job to do, a job as Progressive Conservatives. ... Know what the PC principles are, and stay with them, because they build this province" - and one day, she said, the PCs will be back in power.

Those without a vehicle or ride were unable to get to the polls; the new BWG Transit System stopped running at 5 p.m., and was not extended on Election night.

There were other complaints. The polling station at the BWG Leisure Centre was on the second floor - up 2 flights of stairs. There was an elevator, but it was a long walk from the parking lot and the check-in desk, especially for those with limited mobility.

There were complaints that many long-time voters did not receive their voter cards. At St. John's Presbyterian, the line-up for those without a card stretched out the door to the parking lot. Some waited up to 45 minutes to be processed and given a ballot.

Elections Ontario was contacted for comment, but did not respond by press time.

Barriers to voting in the Provincial election?

There was no sign of apathy on Election Day, June 12. Voter turnout was up substantially, after hitting an all-time low in 2011 - spurred by polls which showed the election would be too close to call. But there were barriers for some would-be voters.

Elections Ontario sent out voter cards informing some Bradford residents that their polling station was located at the BWG Leisure Centre 471 West Park Ave., "Cookstown." The correct location was "Bradford."

Elections Ontario did not send out a correction - and some new residents and Seniors drove to Cookstown before discovering the error.

There were residents living within sight of the Leisure Centre who learned that their polling station was St. John's Presbyterian Church - kilometres away, on 10 Sideroad.

Define mandate...

Kathleen Wynne's Liberals have been returned to office, with a majority. Wynne, in her victory speech, talked of the mandate given to her by the voters of Ontario. Premier Wynne, please don't take the vote as a clear mandate. In many ways, it was a vote against what was seen as the mean-spirited rhetoric and sloganeering of Tim Hudak, whose promises of a "million jobs" rang hollow, and whose every statement had to be reinterpreted and "translated" by his Progressive Conservative party.

Ontario residents do have clear concerns, that they want to see addressed. They want you to address the deficit, and reduce the crippling debt load.

They want you to increase transparency and openness in decision-making, so that there can be honest debate and discussion of issues like the gas plant cancellations before they happen. As for the "gas plant scandal," it is neither forgiven nor forgotten, but Hudak's comments notwithstanding, it is in the hands of police for an investigation.

Ontarians want to see hydro prices reduced, to attract and keep more business in the province, and the burden of debt reduced for students. They want to see less red-tape, and less onerous regulations.

And your made-in-Ontario pension plan? Many do not see it as doable or affordable at this time, and wish you would continue to work with the other provinces and negotiate with the federal government, to demonstrate the need for additional support. They want you to persuade Harper to reconsider, the same way that you persuaded Ontarians to elect you to office.

So, congratulations, Premier Wynne - but please don't take the vote as a carte blanche.

letters to the editor

Lions' Golf Tourney thanks

To the Editor: The Bradford Lions Club held its 15th Joe Magani Golf Tournament under threatening skies on Wednesday, June 11 at The Highlands Golf Club of Bradford. One hundred golfers received an addias Golf shirt at registration, a Guinness glass (empty) from Jack Astors in Newmarket, and first class service from The Highlands.

Our Corporate sponsors were Tim Hortons Bradford, addias Canada, Great Golf Homes, Uniflon Engineered Precast, and Geranium/Cernus. The Grand Prize draw was for an Outdoor Fireplace donated by the Bradford Lions and Canadian Tire Store in Bradford, won by Cory Greig.

The winning foursome, at 13 under par, was the team of Dave Bedy, John Sartor, Tim O'Connell, and Gabor Czetter. Women's Longest Drive - Monika Torre Men's Longest Drive - Trevor Harley Closest to the Pin, for a Chevrolet Malibu donated by Paul Sadon Motors, was Dave Eek. Putting contest was won by Ryan Holm. There were no winners of the Hole-In-One contests sponsored by Tupling Insurance, Bradford Retail Sales and Service, and Carrison Castle.

Lion Jamie Jones, Chair Golf Committee

Election confusion

To the editor: I received my election notice quite some time ago and today (Election Day, June 12), I noticed that our area residents are to vote at the BWG Leisure Centre in "Cookstown." I tried getting directions on Map Quest, but with no success. I finally called Elections Canada and was told that it was an error and that our voting station is right here in Bradford, on West Park Avenue.

How could they have made such a serious error? This is going to cause a lot of upset and confusion for those of us that are Seniors, and planned on voting today. They should have sent out another letter pointing out this serious error! Unbelievable.

Vel Hollingworth, BWG

Bad taste from Chilifest?

To the editor: On June 7, Bradford hosted its first-ever Chilifest event.

Town Council approved a donation of $5000 of our public money to Chilifest, at its May 20, 2014 meeting.

Chilifest was a privately-organized commercial event, run and managed by a local promoter. Some of the proceeds will no doubt be donated to a few projects of their choice, as advertised - as do many commercial businesses. But don't be misled - the primary purpose of Chilifest 2014 is to make a profit for those involved in its organization.

So why is BWG Council donating $5000? Do they offer similar donations to the true not-for-profit groups, such as the Lions and Rotary Clubs, Bradford Minor Hockey, Baseball, Soccer, local Churches, etc.? You know, those true volunteer groups that are accountable for what they do? And will they donate to the next circus when it comes to Town?

One of the first topics at the May 20, 2014 Council meeting was the amendment of the Agenda, to permit a "Deputation" by Ricky Brooks to Council. I've been led to believe this "on the spot deputation request" is not Council's normal practice, since Agendas are usually developed in advance, so that Council and the public are aware of what is being discussed.

Now I ask you, is there something smelly here? Or is it normal for the Town to donate $5000 to a commercial organization without any public or audited verification of the proceeds received at this event, asking instead for only a "Report on the Finances." What will that report contain? I suspect it will be whatever Chilifest decides to tell us.

Bradford Valley Appreciation BBQ

Since January, students at St. Jean de Brebeuf Catholic School have been paired with seniors at Specialty Care's Bradford Valley long term care centre. Every other week, participating Grade 5 and 6 classes walked from their school on Miller Park Avenue to the Centre on the 6th Line. "In snow and ice," said Sadie Friesner, Bradford Valley co-ordinator, to spend time with the residents.

They shared stories, played games, worked on crafts together - and both students and residents learned and benefited from the interaction.

The program fits in with the school's religious curriculum, said teacher Catherine Wood - encompassing social justice, community service, and encouraging students to show empathy, "how to care for others with a moral conscience."

The residents range in age from about 50, to about 90; some have dementia. At first, the students were shy, even awkward with their partners. For some, it was their first time connecting with the elderly. "I was surprised to know how many of the children don't have grandparents," Wood said - but by June 13, the final day of the program, the Seniors considered the students their "grandchildren," and the kids had bonded with the residents, bringing flowers and hand-made cards to celebrate a birthday.

As a thank-you, the Residents' Council used some of its hard-earned money, raised through bake sales and other fundraisers, to host an Appreciation BBQ for "their" students, with hot dogs, refreshments and prizes.

"It's been really great," said Friesner. "The BBQ is the least we can do," to say thanks.

2014 FINAL TAX BILLING AND INSTALLMENT DUE DATE NOTICE

The 2014 Final property tax bills were mailed out on May 27, 2014. Tax bills were issued for each of the following property tax classes: Residential, Pipeline, Farm and Managed Forests with the due dates as follows:

First instalment due June 26, 2014

Second instalment due September 26, 2014

Failure to pay these instalments on time will result in penalty/interest charges at a rate of 1.25% per month on the first day of default and on the first day of each month thereafter until all taxes are paid in full.

Please note that the tax bills were printed prior to the June 1, 2014 penalty and interest being charged and only reflect payments received up to May 20, 2014. Any arrears/past due amounts included on the first instalment due of this tax billing will be subject to additional interest if not paid by May 31, 2014.

The 2014 Final property tax bills for the Commercial, Industrial and Multi-residential property tax classes will be issued in July with payment due dates set for August 27, 2014 and October 29, 2014.

Owners of newly constructed homes may receive a tax bill for the value of the vacant lot only, until the home is assessed. Once the house is assessed, you will receive a supplementary/omitted tax bill for the taxes on the value of your home. This process may take up to 3 years and the taxes due will be retroactive to your date of occupancy. For an estimate of your annual taxes, multiply the purchase price of your home by the current tax rate (2014 residential tax rate 0.01141131) or contact the Finance Department at 905-775-5303.

If you have not yet received your tax bill, please contact the Finance Department at 61 Holland Street East, Bradford or by telephone at 905-775-5303.

Failure to receive a tax bill does not excuse the property owner from the responsibility for payment, nor relieve him/her from liability of penalty for late payment.

Tornado touch down in Essa

In the early evening hours of June 17, a line of severe thunderstorms ripped through Southern Ontario.

In Bradford, the high winds and heavy rain resulted in trees down, traffic lights out, and localized flooding - but elsewhere the damage was worse.

In Angus, reports confirm that a tornado touched down, damaging approximately 30 homes. There were no injuries, but numerous reports of debris and damage, falling trees and downed hydro poles. At a local business, Secure Store, 20' and 40' steel shipping containers weighing 5,000 to 9,800 lbs. were tossed and sent flying 20' or more, according to witnesses.

Essa Township Mayor Terry Dowdall declared a state of emergency.

South Simcoe Police were called to the 10th Line of Innisfil and 20th Sideroad, where a large storage barn was totally destroyed and the walls and roof were blown 300', coming to rest against a nearby house, blocking the entry with debris. A hydro pole supplying power to the barn was ripped from the ground.

Again, there were no injuries, but damages are expected to be substantial.

Sweet!

Fresh Ontario rhubarb was the unofficial focus of the Bradford Farmers' Market, on June 14 - where the fresh produce available included asparagus, strawberries, fresh lettuce, giant radishes from Spring Farms, hot-house tomatoes, and stalks of the springtime treat.

Market volunteers offered samples of Rhubarb Tapioca, along with recipe cards. The pudding was made by vendor and Market Committee member Barb Vaughan.

"My mom's been making that since the '50s," Vaughan said. "We had it over ice cream - and pancakes!"

Last year Vaughan was at the Bradford Farmers' Market with her Bow Wow Boutique. This year, she's added the new Market Gluten-Free Shoppe.

Vaughan explained that she was inspired by the gluten-free bakery that had a booth at the Market for only 4 weeks in 2013. "We had so many people who wanted it," she said, that she decided to try her hand at gluten-free baking.

Over the winter months, she experimented with her own favourite recipes. "I tried this on all my friends who are gluten-free, all winter - and they loved it!" Brownies, cherry bars, butter tart bars, banana bread, cookies, and her gluten-free Death By Chocolate Cake have been popular with shoppers since the market opened in May.

Her first customer was a little girl with Celiac disease, who bought a brownie - and said, "Oh, mummy, this is the best thing I ever tasted!" That kind of response has Vaughan considering starting up a bakery in Bradford, open year-round.

Shoppers at the Market browsed, listened to entertainer Russ Cleyton - who had kids singing and playing instruments - and bought Harry's Day cookies from Sweet Hand-made, in the shape of tools and ties.

The Bradford Farmers' Market, outside the Bradford Library at 425 Holland St. W., is open Saturdays, 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

bank, and are eager to see the berries replanted.

In 2009, volunteers planted a section close to Hwy. 9, with a similar mix of native species. At the time, there was some concern over planting trees and shrubs on the berms, which were built primarily to improve life safety and provide flood protection.

"The pilot was a showcase, a template," Pedrazzi said. It not only won over Marsh residents, it also highlighted some potential problems - e.g., planting large trees too close to the road could interfere with the movement of farm equipment. Most importantly, though, it demonstrated the potential for success, when organizations work together. "It was a collaboration that's been transplanted to other areas in the Marsh," said Pedrazzi.

On Saturday, there was another kind of transplanting going on: the trees planted for the pilot project were being carefully moved to an adjacent section of the berm, using spade trucks, to allow the original area to be raised to the 100 year storm level.

The Community Work Party day was an example of the partnerships that have evolved. The large stock trees were partly donated by Somerville nurseries, the mulch by Miller Compost, a pizza lunch was provided by the Holland Marsh Drainage System Joint Municipal Services Board, funding came from the Ministry of the Environment's Great Lakes Guardian Community Fund and other provincial agencies - and the work was done by the volunteers.

Close shave for Heart &amp; Stroke

The students and teachers at St. Jean de Brebeuf set a fundraising target of $5,000, for this year's Jump Rope for Heart, for the Heart & Stroke Foundation.

As an added incentive, principal James Murphy promised that he would get a buzz cut, if the goal was reached.

On June 9, students packed the school gym to learn whether or not they had been successful. Mr. Murphy modelled his current "do" - "I'm taking it a little long, like in the 1970s," he said - and promised that if the

would be getting "buzzed."

There was also recognition for the top fundraisers, who will be invited to a pizza party, a reward - and #1 fundraiser Riley, who collected $648, was invited up to the front to help trim the Principal's hair.

"On behalf of the Heart & Stroke Foundation, I want to thank you so much," York North rep Joanne Krivicko told the kids. "By participating you're not only doing something for your own heart, but also supporting research."

Jazz greats @ Bradford Library

It was more than just a jazz concert.

The performance in the Armium on June 11, held under the aegis of the Barrie Jazz & Blues Festival, was an event - an evening of music and storytelling by two legends of the jazz world, Tony Quarrington, jazz/blues/folk guitarist; and Don Franks, musician-actor-singer-actor-singer-actor.

Franks, whose credits include the 1978 film The Circle, Finian's Rainbow with Fred Astaire, and the TV series La Femme Nikita, shared stories of his days on stage and in front of the cameras.

He talked about walking in on Fred Astaire, who was playing a ragtime tune on a piano; singing Old Devil Moon to Petula Clark - and not meeting Bob Dylan in 1967.

"I was going around with a girl called Clara. Her sister was going around with a guy named Bob Dylan." They were supposed to go on a double-date, "But I went to see The Chambers Brothers instead."

The short-lived Broadway show "Kelly" that closed on Opening Night, the old 78s of Jelly Roll Morton, jazz classics, some of the more obscure melodies that never made it to a recording studio. Franks talked and sang, seguing from topic to topic and time to time, as Quarrington provided accompaniment and illustration.

At one point, Franks did a "jam" on "Pennies from Heaven," improvising lyrics and scat, challenging Quarrington with his tune and tempo changes.

An evening of pure jazz magic, at the Bradford Public Library.

Free Family Saturdays. Drop in for crafts, activities and family fun from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., recommended for ages 3 and up. June 21 - Juggling for Kids 2014 Summer Reading Club.
